

creates visual two-dimensional solutions to a project brief

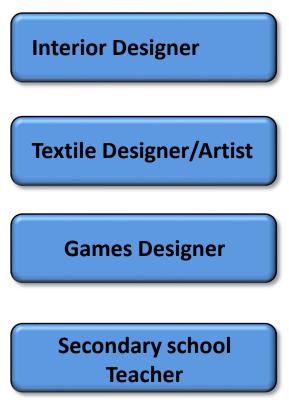

design of clothing although some may focus on a specialist area such as childrenswear or accessories

Work for advertising agencies and create interactive, graphical web content.

Use different materials like clay or polystyrene foam to transform design ideas into objects.

Interprets scripts and sketch ideas in order to create a storyboard.

Sometimes known as 'creatives', are responsible for creating eye-catching advertising campaigns.

Planning and organising the design and decoration of the inside of new and existing buildings

Working in knit, weave and print to create twodimensional designs production of commercial or artistic fabrics or textile products

Creating the graphical and usually the programming content of a computer game

Work with young people helping them learn and grow to play a positive role in the community.