

What are the top 10 Jobs if you like work in Biology careers?

Bioengineer

Work with healthcare specialists to develop systems, and devices in order to solve clinical problems

Bioinformatician

Someone who applies information technology and computer science into the area of biology

Clinical technician

Are responsible for performing a variety of lab tests and procedures

Doctor

Trained to prevent, diagnose and treat illnesses, diseases, disorders and injuries.

Curator

A content specialist charged with an institution's collections and involved with the interpretation of heritage material

Epidemiologist

Are scientists who study diseases within populations of people.

Geneticist

Someone who studies genetics, the science of genes, heredity, and variation of organisms.

Mycologist

Someone who studies the genetic and biochemical properties of fungi.

Neuroscientist

study the development and function of the nervous system, which includes the brain, spinal cord, and nerve cells

Secondary school Teacher

Work with young people helping them learn and grow to play a positive role in the community.